

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK SEIZE STOCK OF LIQUORS ON SHIP

CONVICT SLAYS SHERIFF DURING SWAMP BATTLE

Escaped "Lifer" Holds 100
Rifleman at Bay in
Michigan

Escanaba, Mich., June 22.—Hidden in the depths of a desolate swamp near Maple Ridge, George Natchos, escaped Marquette prison "lifer," continued today his defiance of 100 riflemen who sought him.

Already one man has been killed by the fugitive and a second wounded. Natchos, armed with a revolver taken from a Marquette prison guard, when he escaped returns fire whenever fired upon, one bullet killing Sheriff Frank Curran and another wounding J. C. Cleghorn, state police lieutenant. George Bloch, who escaped with Natchos, has been recaptured. He told the police that Natchos is determined to die fighting rather than surrender.

Mosquitoes and other insects infest the swamp and the fugitive is thought to be without food and water.

SERIOUSLY BURNED IN STILL BLAST

Dayton, June 22.—Lawrence Wilson, 26, was burned seriously about the arms and back Friday morning when a still exploded in his home at the rear of 123 North Madison street. He was placed under arrest for violating the liquor laws, and was taken to Miami Valley hospital for treatment.

Firemen who responded to the alarm were at first denied admittance to the house by Wilson and his wife, who told them that the blaze had been extinguished. The firefighters insisted upon entering and found the room in which the still had been set up a mass of flames.

Police believe Wilson refused to permit the firemen to enter because he thought they would discover the still and summon police. This is exactly what happened, and Sergeant Niswander's liquor squad was on the scene in a few minutes.

DEMONSTRATION OF AIR FORCES IN ENGLAND TO COME

London, June 22.—England expects to show tomorrow that she leads the world in air power. At Hendon, the royal air forces will take the air in giant machines that will fly with full military equipment and munitions at the rate of 150 miles an hour at a height of 10,000 feet. These machines, in addition, will be almost as easily handled as small combat machines for twisting and turning in sniping operations.

The naval department also comes forward with its air claims, reporting a successful test for its latest torpedo carrier capable of flying, fully equipped with torpedoes at 100 miles an hour. The Hendon exhibition also will show troop-carriers capable of carrying through the air at high speed 20 fully equipped troops. The Avro firm at Aldershot will demonstrate a monster bombing machine for the first time publicly. It has a 1,000 horse power Napier engine.

URGES CONSTRUCTION OF NEW WATERWAY

Toledo, June 22.—Assailing the state of New York and its officials for "provincialism and local self interest" in opposing the construction of the Great Lakes-Tide Water canal, former Governor James P. Goodrich, of Indiana, before the Ohio Bankers Association in annual convention here today, strongly urged the construction of this waterway as a means of insuring the industrial and agricultural prosperity of the middle west.

DIES BECAUSE OF HEAT

Cincinnati, June 22.—George Ord, 60 years old, 17 West Sixth street, Newport, Ky., died last night of a prostration when being taken to St. Elizabeth hospital, Covington, in a Newport ambulance. He had overcome the heat in the car, and a porter in a cave near the street and Columbia Ave.

Treasury Department Orders Agents to Break
Seals on the Baltic

FIRST CASE TO ARRIVE

Three Mile Limit Decision of Court is Violated By White Star Liner

Washington, June 22.—Customs officials in New York were ordered by the Treasury Department today to break the seals and seize all beverage liquor on the steamship Baltic which arrived in that port this morning.

New York, June 22.—Following eleventh hour instructions telegraphed from the Treasury Department the U. S. Customs authorities here this afternoon boarded the Cunard liner Berengaria, when she docked at the foot of West 14th Street, broke the British customs seals on a supply of liquor in the ship's storeroom and officially seized it.

The arrival of the White Star liner Baltic a few hours earlier, also with liquor aboard, for beverage purposes on the return voyage was not expected, as in the case of the Berengaria, and the Baltic's liquor was merely placed under guard. It will however be dealt with later in the same fashion as that of the Berengaria.

New York, June 22.—The first test of the Treasury Department ruling following the U. S. Supreme Court decision concerning the bringing of liquor within the three-mile sea limit by incoming trans-Atlantic liners arose unexpectedly today when the White Star steamship Baltic, without preliminary warning slipped into port carrying liquor for her return voyage.

The customs officials had not anticipated the necessity of taking action until the arrival of the Cunard liner Berengaria and the Baltic's previous arrival drove all the local officials to hurried conferences. The result was a technical seizure of the liquor which was placed under customs guards, but the seals of the British customs on the liquor store room were not immediately broken by the United States authorities.

It was pointed out by the customs authorities that the seizure of the Baltic's liquor would automatically also cause the arrest of the commander, Captain Roberts, for alleged violation of the Volstead law as interpreted by the Supreme Court decision. However, no action in the respect was taken immediately.

When the Baltic reached quarantine, the boarding customs officers were presented with a manifesto by the ship's commander listing, besides 70 bottles of brandy allowable for medicinal purposes, the following liquor list as stored for the Baltic's return voyage.

5,736 bottles of lager, ale and stout; 305 bottles of whiskey and brandy; 119 bottles of wine; 38 bottles of liquor.

When the customs officials who boarded the Baltic discovered that the ship had this liquor aboard, they wired authorities at the customs house and when the Baltic docked at the pier, at the foot of west 20th street, other customs officers placed the storeroom under guard which means a technical seizure of the liquor. Further instructions, as to whether or not the liquor should be removed from the boat were awaited by the customs authorities here from the treasury department at Washington.

ASA G. CANDLER, SR. MARRIES SOUTHERN WIDOW WEDNESDAY

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—While his lawyers were in conference trying to settle the $500,000 breach of promise suit filed against him by Mrs. Onizima De Bouchelle, New Orleans society beauty, Asa G. Candler, Sr., 70 years old, founder of the Coca Cola Company, and said to be the South's wealthiest citizen, Wednesday married Mrs. May Little Ragin, a stenographer.

They left for a honeymoon in Washington and New York, and will return home July 5.

MACHINE DAMAGED

A Ford touring car belonging to A. Ellis, of Lynn street, was damaged when it crashed into the rear of a Ford service owned by The Republic Asphalt Co., and driven by Frank Jackson, superintendent, Thursday afternoon. Jackson had stopped his machine in front of the Gazette building when the car driven by Ellis crashed into it.

The radiator on the Ellis machine was smashed, the front damaged and the windshield broken. Ellis said he applied his brakes but that they refused to work.

TAGGERT MEETS GOVERNOR SMITH

Tom Taggart and Gov. A.E. Smith

Governor Smith is regarded as a potential Presidential candidate and will probably have the backing of the wets as a result of his signing the Culliver bill, repealing the Mullan-Gage Prohibition Enforcement Act.

SEEK RELEASE OF MYSTERY MAN AND "HER" HUSBAND

Masquerader Fails to Break Down During Period of Questioning

June 22.—Release on writs of habeas corpus of Fred Thompson, the sex masquerader; his "husband," Frank Carrick, and his legal wife, Marie Clark, held as suspects in the murder of Richard C. Tesmer, was asked in court today, the fifth since their arrest. It was said the attorney who asked the writs has been retained in their behalf by Mrs. Earl Deer, wife of a bandit hanged here last year.

Thompson, was still unshaken today in his denials that he knows anything of the murder, which, according to Tesmer's widow, was committed by a smiling girl bandit. Frank Carrick, with whom Thompson lived for 14 years as "wife" in the psychopathic hospital following a mental breakdown as the result of being deprived of the drugs to which both he and Thompson are addicted.

Police place little credence in a "confession" made by Carrick, a rambling admission that the thing the police had been asking him about for hours was true. When told that Carrick had "come through" Thompson merely sneered and said they had better get a doctor for his man. The man who posed as a girl and a wife has surprised the police by his failure to collapse under the strain of four days of questioning, unstimulated by either drugs or liquor. For the first time since his arrest he was undisturbed today, held in a cell at an outlying station and permitted to repair the ravages to his make up while the police centered their efforts upon his legal wife, Marie Clark, as she is known in the strange triangle.

It was under this name that she was married to Thompson, although she was born Marie Kosakowska of Polish parentage, in Michigan, 23 years ago. When she came to Chicago at an early age she took the name of Clark. She met Thompson as a woman, but was told by a mutual friend that he was a man. They were married, fled to a farm to escape the angry "husband" Carrick, but were discovered and a series of jealous quarrels was finally patched up by all of them living together.

Police said today that if efforts to indict Thompson for the Tesmer murder fail, he and Carrick will be turned over to the federal government as draft evaders, Carrick having obtained exemption because of his dependent "wife."

DAUGHTER OF RED OFFICER EXECUTED

London, June 22.—Mlle. Brusiloff, daughter of Brusiloff, commander of the Russian Red army, has been executed at Moscow for concealing church treasures, according to a Moscow dispatch to the Evening News today.

In consideration of her father's military services she was offered a pardon, but refused it, saying "I cannot accept mercy at the bloody hands of the executioners of the Russian people."

Gen. Brusiloff was one of the foremost generals of the czarist regime, but cast his lot with the soviets when they came into power.

Middletown, O., June 22.—Ohio Odd Fellows will hold their Grand lodge session next year at Norwalk, it was decided by unanimous vote of the delegates.

COMPLAINS OF HEAT; KILLS SELF

Upper Sandusky, O., June 22.—Complaining of the intense heat and declaring he "just couldn't stand it," Grover Frost, 37, killed himself with a shotgun here.

GASOLINE YACHT IS DESTROYED BY BLAST THURSDAY

Boat Enroute to Harvard-
Yale Races Meets With Accident

Saybrook, Conn., June 22.—The crew of a gasoline driven power boat, burned to the water's edge off Fenwick Light yesterday afternoon was rescued by another power boat that was close by and were taken toward New London, according to spectators of the accident on the Fenwick shore. No lives were lost, it was said by spectators.

It is said the lost vessel was a government craft, though they were uncertain. The boat was enroute to the Harvard-Yale races.

MERCURY REACHES 96 DEGREES IN XENIA

Thermometers on the West side of Detroit street, registered 96 degrees in the shade, Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, the day breaking Thursday's record for extreme heat.

No relief is in sight according to weather forecasters, and the thermometers will continue to rise. The heat is unprecedented for the time of year, and prevails over the entire country.

THIRTY SEVEN MEN TURN OUT TO HELP BEAUTIFY SPOT

Undaunted by a scorching sun and the fact that the thermometer was soaring near the one hundred in the shade mark, thirty-seven public spirited Xenia business men met at the Kelly Cordage Company office Friday at one o'clock and marched to the old dump on Dayton hill where they put in the afternoon clearing off the rubbish, smoothing off the ground and putting the plot into shape for a public playground. Dayton Hill residents turned out in force to aid the other volunteer workers and the work went along in splendid shape in spite of the intense heat.

The Dayton Hill women had a large refreshment stand erected in the shade near the old Work House and served the workers with sandwiches, lemonade and lemonade. The women state that the workers consumed literally gallons of lemonade.

The Stout Coal Company and the Lloyd Contracting Company had their teams on the lot and the city teams were also used in the work of leveling off the ground and hauling away the rubbish. It was impossible to entirely finish the job in one afternoon but the work was so nearly completed that the matter of putting on the finishing touches will be comparatively simple.

The workers, arrayed in overalls and wearing wide straw hats, tackled the job in a businesslike manner and proved that they were fully equal to the strong arm jobs. Those in charge of the enterprise are delighted with the response made and greatly appreciate the splendid work done by the volunteer workers.

FATALLY INJURED

Columbus, June 22.—Clarence Logan, 25, in Mercy Hospital, probably fatally injured, as the result of the truck he was driving being demolished by an interurban car, when it stalled on the Scioto Valley traction company's crossing at Rees station, a few miles south of here.

SAY HEAT WAVE UNPRECEDENTED OVER THE LAND

Many Points Give Details
Of Deaths and Suffering
In Nation

CASUALTY LIST HEAVY

Scores of Prostrations In
New York Due Directly
To Intense Heat

New York, June 22.—With a toll of 21 dead and more than 100 prostrated in New York and vicinity, relief came today from the heat wave which for two days held the city in its grip.

Cooling breezes swept over the island out of the St. Lawrence valley, the mercury hovering around 80 degrees during the morning.

The early night hours were sweltering. Thousands again sought the cooling sands of the beaches for the night; others once more slept in parks and in the lowlands along the East river beneath the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges.

Weather forecaster Starr predicted a continuation of the cool weather.

New York, June 22.—At least 13 deaths in and near New York were checked up for two days as directly due to the heat. The official thermometer recorded 93 and 95, respectively. More than 100 prostrations kept ambulances busy.

At Pittsburgh the heat was so terrific that hundreds of men had to leave their jobs in the hot steel mills, slowing down business considerably.

At Boston the thousands who spent the last two nights on the sands of Revere beach woke up to find a smart breeze fanning them into comfort after 48 hours of agony. The mounting sun, however, brought another burning day. Intense suffering is reported from the Hub's tenement districts, where thousands of families moved into the streets to save themselves from suffocation.

Nine deaths figure in incomplete returns from the state of Michigan, while in Connecticut some thermometers registered 100, and the two hottest days in memory were reported. "Heat came to easterners from a promised lowering of temperatures throughout New England."

Heavy rainfall was reported from the Great Lake regions and Duluth reported more comfortable weather.

In Ohio the casualty list for two days bears 22 names, including eight deaths from prostration, two from suicide, one from lightning and 11 from drowning. The mercury continued in the nineties.

Five heat deaths and scores of prostrations are reported from Philadelphia. All public schools in the Quaker City were closed when the thermometer stood at 92. Wednesday the hottest point reached was 98. The crest of the heat wave passed in Chicago with a total of 22 deaths recorded.

In New York the situation for two days has been really serious. The parks have largely been thrown open to those who were unable to sleep in their hot homes and the green lawns of Central park now provide "flops" for thousands, among whom are great numbers of women and children. The fire department turned hoses on nearly a quarter of a million kids at improvised showers throughout the city. In the congested districts all street hydrants and fire hose showers were busy all day. Hundreds last night slept on the benches and grass in City Hall and Battery parks, while the worried animals in the two big zoos of Central and Bronx parks are moaning in company with great throngs of families.

Columbus, June 22.—Increased heat today added to the inconvenience and suffering of sweltering humanity. At 1 o'clock this afternoon U. S. weather bureau officials announced an official temperature of 91 degrees as compared with 89 degrees at 1 p. m. yesterday. On the streets the temperature was about 10 degrees hotter than the official reading. Twenty-nine lives have been claimed by the intense heat.

PHONE RATES UPHELD

Columbus, June 22.—Telephone rates in effect at Toledo since July 1, 1920, were sustained by the public utilities commission when it dismissed the protest and complaint filed by the city. The rates, put into effect by the old Central Union Telephone company, have been charged telephone users by the Ohio Bell company while the case has been pending before the utilities commission. The protest against the rates was based on the valuation placed on the telephone company's Toledo properties.

VOLCANO ERUPTION WANES—PLACE FARM LOSS AT 10 MILLION

Slowness of Lava Advance
Enables Residents to Reach Safety

Rome, June 22.—Mount Etna's eruption waned in fury today and at noon there was only a small trickle of lava advancing at the rate of six yards an hour. Rumbblings could still be heard in the interior of the volcano with an occasional explosion.

Army aviators who flew over the crater, through clouds of black smoke and sickening fumes, reported that lava was flowing from only some of the half dozen fissures that had opened since the eruption began last Sunday.

Although the agricultural loss is put at $10,000,000, King Victor Emanuel, who investigated on the scene informed the authorities the catastrophe was less appalling than first believed. The slowness of the lava advance enabled all persons in the threatened communities to leave safely.

Linguaglossa was saved as though by a miracle. At latest reports the lava was 900 yards distant from the center of the town.

A black pall of smoke and poisonous fumes hangs over the countryside. Troops are having difficulty to prevent peasants from returning to the evacuated villages. Already some of the peasants have returned to their homes and are breaking up the cold lava congealed over their fields.

OVER 7 MILLIONS LOST TO HOLDERS

Cleveland, June 22.—Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton was to confer with receivers for the Cleveland Discount Company today, relative to possible action following the report filed by Haskins and Sells, certified public accountants in which a probable loss to common and preferred stockholders totalling $7,234,823 was shown.

According to the figures made public late yesterday, Common stock which has been changing hands recently for 30 cents a share, is of no value whatever, and receivers say in a letter sent to stockholders that the value of $7,015,000 preferred stock outstanding is "extremely problematical."

SEEK TO FIND BOX

Columbus, June 22.—Efforts of Sheriff Holycross and Deputies dragging Big Walnut creek for a mysterious box, eight feet long and three feet wide, weighted down with a heavy chain, said to have been thrown from a bridge into the creek by an unknown autoist, were unsuccessful up to noon today. The search is to be continued this afternoon.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Kenton, O., June 22.—Five minutes after he concluded a conversation with members of his family, William Putt, 33, representative here of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Company, fired a .32-caliber pistol bullet into his right temple, dying an hour later in a hospital.

Putt had been ill and his family said had appeared depressed. Examiners are here today checking over his accounts.

HARDING WOULD MODIFY WORLD COURT PROGRAM

President Eager to Have
America Represented
In Proposal

YEARNS FOR PEACE

Chief Executive Makes First
Address in St. Louis on Thursday.

St. Louis, June 22.—President Harding, in his speech here last night advocating American membership in the world court, threw a large sized pebble into the already muddled political stream.

The president declared for drastic modifications in the court proposal, as drafted by Hughes and submitted to the senate. He declared he was ready to accept any compromise necessary to compose the differences among Republican senators and to bring the United States into the court, making the latter an agency for world peace. The president threw into the discard the reservations written by Hughes and stated he would agree to other and more stringent reservations which might satisfy all those who have doubts about the court. He asserted that he would make no attempt to coerce the senate, nor embark upon any "crusade," but plainly intimated it was his purpose to try to get the court proposal through the senate speedily, thereby forestalling all attempts to make it a campaign issue.

What the president desires most of all, he said, is to have the United States go into the affairs of Europe. This was boldly stated in the following paragraph in his speech: "I could not do otherwise. My soul yearns for peace. My heart is anguished by the sufferings of war. My spirit is eager to serve. My passion is for justice over force. My hope is in the great court. My mind is made up. My resolution is fixed."

Proposes Modifications.
The president declared he was willing to go to any length to separate the court from the league. To this end he proposed, among others, the following modifications of the Hughes plan:

Removal of the election of judges from the council and assembly of the league and giving the court itself power to fill all vacancies. This would make the court self-perpetuating.

Taking from the league the power to fix compensation of the judges and transferring it to the Hague tribunal or to a new commission appointed by the member nations.

Discard the exclusive privilege now enjoyed by the league to seek legal guidance from the court and extend this right to all nations whether they are in the league or not.

These changes would do away with the disparity of voting under which the British empire has six votes to every other nation's one. The president said he did not share the misapprehensions of some court opponents over Britain's six to one voting arrangement.

The president denied any intention of seeking to take the United States into the league of nations. He went back to his speech of Aug. 28, 1920, in which he asserted he would take all that was good in the league covenant and in the Hague tribunal and make an association of nations. This is what he is trying to do in making the court proposal, he said. He declared the country is as firmly against the league as it was in 1920, that the league issue is as "dead as slavery" and it was the part of "wisdom and common sense to let it rest in the deep grave to which it has been conveyed and turn our thoughts to living things."

At one point the president declared the court must be completely free from the league and that his preference was for complete independence between the two. But a moment later he asserted that the United States can not suggest to nations already in the court that the whole plan should be set aside and modified, merely to satisfy American objections. Further along he said the nations of Europe would rather have the United States on any terms than remain aloof, "a hermit nation."

The president expressed the belief that the tide of public sentiment will be for the court and will be reflected in the senate. He declared the opposition to be a hopeless minority.

The speech, the most important the president has chosen to make on his tour, was delivered in the Coliseum. The house, estimated to hold 15,000 persons, was crowded, despite the terrific heat. The president was given an enthusiastic greeting.

The president left St. Louis early this morning on the second leg of his western trip. The presidential special arrived in Kansas City shortly before noon and there tonight Mr. Harding will deliver his expected address on the railroad situation. It is expected that he will endorse the plan of consolidating the railroads of the country into a few great systems as the only method of obtaining that orderly and adequate service which the public demands.

CONGRESSMAN DYER DELIVERS ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS BEFORE RECORD CROWD AT WILBERFORCE UNIVERSITY

The Hon. L. C. Dyer, Congressman from St. Louis, Mo., author of the Dyer Anti-Lynch Bill, delivered the commencement address to the graduating class of Wilberforce University, Thursday morning in the Auditorium of Galloway Hall which proved too small to accommodate an estimated attendance of ten thousand people reputed to be the largest gathering in sixty years of the famous colored institution of learning. The campus grounds and lawns of the residents were freely donated to the visitors who journeyed in automobiles as far as from Pittsburgh and Chicago.

After the preliminary exercises of the program, President John A. Gregg of the school paid a high tribute to the distinguished visitor, who he likened to Abraham Lincoln, championing the cause of protection to all citizens of the United States, whether they be white or black.

Mr. Dyer was greeted with a great ovation of applause, two thousand people arose and gave him the "Lan-tanqua Salute," as he arose to speak. Denying law violation and the tendency in some parts of the country toward lynchings, Congressman Dyer declared: "I all men would recognize the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of men, there would be no race question in America." Having his address upon equal protection of the law for all, the speaker paid the Negro race a high compliment in its steady advancement in religion, education and industry, calling attention to the fact that this race constitutes one 11th of the population of the United States.

Touching on the religious angle Congressman Dyer said, that according to the last census, there are 45,000 colored churches in the country with 4,800,000 communicants, pastored by 25,000 ministers. More than two millions of colored children are attending the public schools and over 100,000 are in normal schools and colleges, said the speaker, in pointing out that education everywhere is sought by the race.

Economic advancement, said the speaker, "has also been good. A half century ago Negroes were principally agricultural workers. Now you will find them in all walks of life. Sixty thousand or more are in the professions; fifty thousand in business; 450 newspapers are published by the race 46,000 are in grocery or other stores; 500,000 are working in trades; they control 78 banks with a capital of $100,000,000; they operate over 900,000 farms with 100,000,000 acres of land. The value of all property owned by the race in the United States is estimated at one billion five hundred million dollars. This is in 60 years. No record of a race is equal to this in all the world."

Touching on the anti-lynching bill which he sponsored in the U. S. Congress, Mr. Dyer said that its purpose was the "assuring to every person within the jurisdiction of every state the equal protection of the laws." It passed the House of Representatives January 26, 1922, by a large majority and failed to come to a vote in the Senate prior to its adjournment March 4, 1923. The speaker called attention to the fact that the "Negro race is building up its own social status based upon character, culture and the new amenities of life. The races must live together in this country. They must mingle together in business and public life. In purely personal and social matters, each can and will go into his own company."

Reverting to his bill, Congressman Dyer said that it is for the purpose of enforcing the 14th amendment, which provides that no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction, the equal protection of the law. The bill is parallel to the Volstead Act which provides for enforcement of the 18th amendment, he said.

"It is high time that the Congress of the United States provide the appropriate legislation authorized in the 14th amendment of the constitution," said Congressman Dyer. "The 14th amendment would be of no avail without the Volstead law and so the 14th amendment means nothing without an enforcement act such as the one proposed. Negroes were drafted from every state in the union to serve in the World War. If we can do that, can we not also by the United States Congress, enact a law to see that the States do not deny to them the equal protection of the laws. I say we have the authority and that is our duty to do it."

At the close of the address President Gregg delivered to the one hundred and fifty graduates diplomas and certificates.

Immediately after the exercises the audience was given the opportunity to witness the marriage of one of the graduates of the Normal Department, Miss Eulalia Lois Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Genie Robinson of Los Angeles, California, to Mr. Charles Summer Long, Jr., of Jacksonville, Florida who graduated last year. The ceremony was conducted by Bishop John Hurst of Baltimore.

The Trustee Board was in session part of Thursday morning and evening. Mr. J. D. M. Russell was elected Secretary and Mr. George F. David of Lexington, Ky., treasurer of the school. Mr. J. N. Goddard of Chicago was elected principalship of the Academy.

The Bishops' Council met in the afternoon and considered the general affairs of the A. M. E. Church. Bishop W. T. Vernon, recently from South Africa, took up the greater portion of the afternoon session reporting on the work. The Quadrennial Address for the General Conference in Louisville, Ky., next May, will occupy the attention of the Bishops today.

SEEK SOLUTION OF MAN'S DEATH

Newark, O., June 22—A somewhat different phase was thrown on the murder of George Forschler by his stepson, Herman Hildebrand, yesterday morning, at their home northeast of Newark, after the autopsy had been performed by Dr. H. J. Davis of this city, acting under the direction of Coroner S. S. Richards and Prosecutor H. C. Ashcraft.

The operation disclosed the information that the bullet had penetrated the heart and lungs, which causes the coroner to believe that scientifically it would be somewhat doubtful whether Forschler could have run clear around the house, enter the kitchen and barricade the doors before he fell dead on the floor. If this theory is substantiated then the self defense feature is dispelled.

GOLF RACE NARROWS

Toledo, June 22.—The defending champion Joe Wells of East Liverpool and a former state champion, J. W. Munro, of Zanesville, are two of the eight that took off in the third round of the Ohio State golf tournament which tomorrow will decide the holder of the title for the year. Wells, in his game this morning was matched with Ellsworth H. Augustus, the only Cleveland to reach the third round. His playing thus far has been the most consistent and general sentiment indicates that he may retain his championship.

J. W. Munro, of Zanesville, has been laying steady and consistently and is conceded a chance to come through for highest honors. H. B. C. Bour, of Elyria, and Arthur Shannon, of the Scioto country club are matched meaning the elimination of one or the other.

Fairings for the third round of match play in the Ohio Golf championship tournament here are: Joe Wells vs Ellsworth Augustus. J. W. Munro vs Robert Hixon. Phoebe Merdan vs Frank Southard. H. C. Barbour vs Arthur Shannon.

THE FEUD BETWEEN THE RAIL LABOR BOARD AND THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The United States Rail Labor Board scolds the Pennsylvania Railroad as a lawbreaker, a defier of the board and the unions; charges it with coercing a minority and throttling a majority of its workers; attacks its plan of "employee representation" and calls its tactics indefensible. This verbal lashing marks the climax of a long feud between the board and the Pennsylvania. A quarrel two years old is wound up by this official scolding, the most savage ever given a public utility by an official body.

The Transportation Act of 1920 authorized the setting up of "Boards of Adjustment," made up from road officials and employees, to deal with rules, grievances and working conditions. While the law does not so specify, the Rail Labor Board, created by the same act, assumed that union organizations were to represent the employees on the boards.

The Labor Board ruling meant the "closed shop." In forming its "Adjustment Boards" the Pennsylvania chose to ignore certain unions and created its own "employee representation." This plan barred the non-employee and the outside-the-system union official and made the arrangement a "family affair." There was immediate union protest that this violated Decision 119 of the Labor Board. The board upheld the protest. The feud was on.

The road ignored a board order directing the holding of a new election, at which if the employees desired, the Shop Crafts Federation might be picked to represent the workers. The board formally cited the road for failure to obey the order. On the eve of the issuance of some such rebuke as that just given the road enjoined the board against such action, claiming it had no jurisdiction.

The case went to the United States Supreme Court. On February 19, 1923, the court upheld the board's right to publish such findings, but ruled the board had no power to enforce them. Such rudimentary teeth as the board had grown for itself were knocked out. It must rely on public opinion to enforce its decisions. The lashing given the Pennsylvania is the board's appeal to public opinion.

In the Pennsylvania's case public opinion is bound to be sadly divided. As a test case it will be a poor one for the Labor Board. The Pennsylvania's plan has worked. Even in the early days of the feud more than 65 per cent of the men affected had agreed to the road's plan, and contracts had been made with 150,000 workers. Troubles have been minimized. Public opinion is more interested in results than it is in the technicalities raised by the board's assumptions and interpretations. The public sees eight out of ten of the road's workers now represented under the new plan, notes that it seems to be working well and draws its own conclusions.

Whatever the Pennsylvania's sins of omission or commission, it is not the sole sinner. After the shop strike of 1922, and their frank defiance of the board, the unions cannot come into court with cleans hands. Men and roads alike have been guilty of defying a weak and a make-shift law, and while the rebuke of the Pennsylvania may help save the board's face, it merely emphasizes its own weakness.

The upshot of its feud with the Pennsylvania gives pith and point to the report that President Harding is ready to urge giving the board real authority to enforce its wage and other decisions. Certainly it should be abolished or else given some authority other than that of a common scold.—Public Ledger.

BRITISH SAY DRY AMERICA NOW PUTS MONEY IN PRECIOUS STONES.

England's diamond industry is the latest field of British industry to be affected by American prohibition, for the profits of the Scottish liquor dealers are being rivaled by those of the Hatton Garden diamond magnates. These dealers are experiencing an increased demand for precious stones throughout America.

The explanation, according to the report of the Federation of British Industries, is that Americans are spending some of their former liquor money for stones. At any rate, the United States is the world's largest consumer of gems of all kinds.

Some of the leading American firms, noted for handling the finest and purest stones, have lately been interesting themselves in "seconds" or slightly spotted ones, indicating that a new class of buyer is being developed.

The demand for diamonds is steadily increasing, but emeralds remain the most precious and rarest stones, costing considerably more than do diamonds of the same quality.

Emeralds are becoming scarcer on the markets, due to the inroads made on the available supply by the decree of fashion that these stones be worn. The fact also that an emerald was selected by Princess Mary for her engagement ring and that an emerald necklace was worn by the Queen at a recent court have combined in making the stones even more sought after than a few years ago.

The supply is said to have fallen below the demand and comparatively few fine stones are procurable. No stocks in any quantity or variety seem to exist, and the actual rarity of the gems seems to imply that they will be worth even more in the near future.

THE STRIKE TRAGEDY.

In cautioning iron and steel workers against over-use of the strike, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis says:

"Let us be slow to use the strike weapon. The tragedy of every strike it seems to me, is that ultimately it is settled by negotiation or compromise. After men have been idle for months, after women and children have been brought down to the last crust of bread, the representatives of both sides get together around the counsel table and reach settlement. They go right back to where they were when the months of misery began and in almost every case both the worker and the employer have lost by the conflict. Instead of conference after months of industrial battle, I would have counsel before the strike is called."

CLEANSING CREAMS

Don't over use cold cream at any time, but in the hot weather be particularly careful about them. Heavy creams will make the skin too oily; in the summer they are apt to irritate it. In fact, unless you are treating deep wrinkles, I'd advise no cream but cleansing cream for hot weather use.

The formula is as follows:

White wax 1 ounce
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White mineral oil 5 ounces
Rose water 1 1/2 ounces
Borax 30 grains
Oil of bitter almonds 15 drops

I make that last bitter almonds because I love its pungency, but any perfumed oil to the same amount will do.

Use this cream for cleansing; use it after exposure to the sun, it's as good as any other cream as a first aid after burning. Use it before going out with a liberal coating of powder, if your skin isn't oily; it will prevent tanning. Use it on shoulders and arms and especially on elbows which will grow grimey and ugly in the summer time. And if you want it cool and bleaching, use one and a half ounces of thin cucumber juice instead of rose water.

Heavy creams fill up the pores too much, which is their great fault in the hot weather. This cleansing cream is light, it rubs in easily, takes out the dust as you want it to do, and wipes off easily. Complexions are usually oily enough in the hot days and need nothing of that nature added. Indeed, one can almost dispense entirely with cold cream in the summer. It's useful mostly as a guard against tanning and after exposure to dust.

M. M. W.—For blackheads, cleanse the skin every night with hot water and a mild soap or a cleansing cream, after which use a fine cream to soften the balance of the soil in the pores. Remove the surplus and close the pores by dashing cold water over the face and throat, or by taking an ice rub. After the skin gets into the condition you describe, it takes a long time to fully recover. A daily hot scrub over the whole body will hasten the clearing of the complexion of either pimples or blackheads.

T. L. T.—"Rough and ready" is an expression commonly applied to persons who are willing, capable and efficient, but a little crude, has a peculiar origin. In Wellington's army, at the battle of Waterloo, was an intrepid colonel whose name was Rough. His first name does not appear in the available records. Wellington selected Rough for a hazardous task that required not only courage but promptness as well. The colonel cheerfully accepted the detail, and acknowledging his quick response, the Duke said, "Rough, and ready." Colonel Rough was so pleased with the compliment that he adopted the phrase as his family motto. Later it became a slogan in the British army and finally found its way into everyday language.

Today's Talk

THE CONCERT

It had rained heavily the night before. And the dry ground had taken up the water like a sponge. So that as morning approached, there hung over the country thereabout, a deep mist. And the air was filled with a musty fragrance—the fragrance of the wood.

I had retired early. So I awoke early. The night had begun to fold its tents to steal away. Silently and slowly the heavens began to give way from a velvety darkness to a gray blue, misty light. A soft, gentle breeze touched the tips of the tall trees, and kissed them.

Then the leader took his stand somewhere and the concert began—from the throats of scores of birds.

Robins, thrushes, catbirds, scarlet tanagers, little wrens and other singers, probably specially engaged for this very morning's festival of song!

What a happy throng, scattered all through the thick woods that hem my window!

I sat up in my bed and looked out into the awakening day. What an escort, thought I, for a day! Why do these birds sing? Who told them to? What makes them so happy? Who gave them their talent? Why do they give it away to all who may listen? Why don't they charge admission? I picked out a favorite—as one will at a concert—a little wren that sat perched on the tip of a rustic garden seat. How its tiny throat bubbled!

PICNICS ARE HELD AT KIL KARE PARK- CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

Kil Kare Park proved a popular resort for two picnicking groups Thursday. The shaded woods of the park was the scene of the annual picnic of the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club, and of the members of Christ Episcopal Church.

Members of the church congregation went to the park early in the afternoon, and spent the time enjoying the usual park amusements. A picnic supper was served in the evening from well filled baskets, and the good time continued throughout the early evening.

Miss Faye Cavanaugh, was elected president of the Business and Professional Women's Club succeeding Miss Allegra E. Hawes, who has held the office since the organization of the club, two years ago, at the annual business meeting, following the club picnic supper. Miss Elsie Weber, was elected vice-president. Miss Miriam Whittington, recording secretary; Miss Olivia Cost, corresponding secretary, and Miss Nelle Weaver, treasurer. Annual reports of committees were heard and other routine business was transacted, during the meeting.

IS RE-ELECTED TO HEAD SOCIETIES

Miss Dorothy Collins of Clifton, was re-elected president of the Young People's Societies of the Xenia Presbytery, at the final meeting of the convention held at the First United Presbyterian Church, at Springfield, Thursday night. All of the old officers were re-elected, including Miss Mildred Kyle, Springfield, stewardship (secretary and treasurer); and Miss Eleanor Lackey, Jamestown, secretary.

Speakers at the convention, which opened Wednesday night, included the Rev. C. P. Proudfoot, Xenia. The Rev. L. H. Smith, Buffalo; the Rev. W. E. McGure, Columbus; Elmer Leffel, Springfield; and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Heinz, of Columbus.

The 1924 meeting will be held at Reynoldsburg.

ATTEND OUTING OF LOCAL TRAFFIC CLUB

Xenia members of the Miami Valley Traffic Club attended the annual outing of the organization at the Community Country Club ground Dayton, Thursday.

Families and guests of the club members were present in addition to members from Xenia, Dayton, Middletown, Hamilton, Cincinnati, Lima, Piqua, Troy, Cleveland and Toledo. Golf and tennis matches, a baseball game between the Carriers and Shippers and other athletic contests featured the day.

In the evening there was dancing in the clubhouse and a band concert.

UNABLE TO FORM CABINET
Brussels, June 22.—Premier Theunis returned his portfolio to King Albert and informed him that he had been unable to form a new cabinet. The cabinet resigned about a week ago when the government was voted down in a test vote in the chamber on the use of the Flemish language in Ghent university.

BAYLIFF SIGNS TWO PLAYERS
By Wones

"Russ" Shuey, who played with the Bayliffs Baseball Club several weeks ago, has been signed by Manager Roy Bayliff for the rest of the season.

Shuey's work in centerfield more than pleased the fans Decoration Day. He made some nice catches and also came through with two timely bingles. Since then he has been playing with the Lebanon team but Bayliff made him a little better proposition and Shuey signed.

The newcomer can play any place

PROPOSE REUNION OF COMPANY F, 83D DIVISION IN XENIA

Events that followed the associations of members of Company F, 830th Infantry during the World War will be lived over again in memory when the organization holds a reunion near here July 18.

The rigors of that vicious winter when these soldiers, new to the soldier game, battled with the elements at Camp Sherman; when as new arrivals overseas they were introduced to the now-famed canteens and the tedious duties of training rookies and finally the part of their ways back in this country, will all be talked over at the proposed reunion.

Dr. W. P. Edmunds, of Washington, C. H., commander of Company F before his promotion to major, which rank he held when discharged, came here Thursday night to make arrangements for the reunion. With several Fayette County veterans of the outfit, he met Greene County men who belonged to the company in the office of Sheriff Morris Sharp, former Top Sergeant of F. Company.

While the date has been tentatively set for July 18, the scene of the all-day reunion has not yet been selected. The affair will probably be held at a spot easily accessible to all of the veterans. Company F was originally composed of Clinton, Fayette and Greene County men and was a unit of the Eighty-third division, first trained at Camp Sherman.

CHIROPRACTOR SELLS LOCAL PRACTICE

Dr. G. C. Donohoo has sold his chiropractic practice in this city to Dr. James A. Nuckols, of Wilmington, who has already taken charge of the local office. Dr. Nuckols is a licensed chiropractor and has been practicing in this state for the last nine years. For the present Dr. Nuckols will be in his office on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Later he expects to move his family to this city.

Dr. Donohoo has not yet decided definitely on his future plans but expects to leave Xenia soon. He has sold his property on North Galloway Street, to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Oglesbee who will move into the house within the next few days.

SOCIETY

Mr. J. R. Gano of the Yellow Springs pike near Cedarville, underwent an operation for throat and ear trouble at the City Hospital, Springfield, Monday morning. He is recovering nicely and has been removed to his home.

Attaches at the Espey Hospital, reported a slight improvement in the condition of Thurman Claybaugh, 19, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon. Little hope is held for the lad's recovery, however.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larriek, of Columbus, who had been the guests for several days of Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty and family, of North Detroit Street, left Friday morning by auto for Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will be in attendance at the annual furniture exhibit. They will be accompanied as far as Cleveland by Mrs. C. V. Henry, of Cleveland, who has been a guest at the Beatty home for the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stiff moved Thursday to the Hollencamp Apartments on East Second Street, where they will make their home until they get possession of the property on West Third Street, which they bought several weeks ago.

Mr. Ernest Beatty spent Friday in Cincinnati on a business trip.

YOUTHS ACCUSED OF STEALING TIRE

Pat O'Brien, 19, and Andy Kessler, 18, both of Dayton were arrested by Sheriff Morris Sharp and Deputy John Baughn on the Dayton pike near Trebels Thursday night and are being held in the County Jail pending arraignment on a charge of petit larceny.

Clarence Stoner, Springfield, pike, notified authorities that he caught the youths in the act of removing an automobile tire from the rear of a machine parked near the Little Miami River bridge at Trebels. The boys escaped in their machine with Stoner giving chase and before he caught them they are said to have thrown the tire out of the car. In the meantime Sheriff Sharp was called and after Stoner had stopped the youths the officers arrived and placed them under arrest.

CHAUTAUQUA TO CALL CONFERENCE

Guarantors of the Redpath Chautauqua for 1923 are urged to be present at the meeting to be held in the Commission Chamber of the Hall Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

All people who signed pledge cards to support the Chautauqua this summer are expected to be present and the gathering will be addressed by a representative of the Redpath Company. The Chautauqua opening is less than a month away as the dates are from July 15 to July 31 inclusive.

FINED ON CHARGE IN POLICE COURT THURSDAY.

The Rev. E. F. Powell, colored, was fined $20 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Thursday when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of operating two automobiles with one set of state license numbers.

Powell is said to have been operating two cars as taxicabs, and had one license plate on each when he was apprehended by Chief M. E. Graham.

Charles Keck, the noted sculptor, is shown at work on his remarkable statue of John Mitchell, great leader of the labor forces and former head of the American coal miners. A large plaque will be placed behind the statue, showing various phases of Mr. Mitchell's life. The statue will be unveiled this Fall in Scranton, Pa.

ZINNIA'S BLOSSOMING

Reports continue to come from all parts of the city, of zinnia plants that are beginning to flower. The warm summer weather is advancing the growth of the gay colored blooms of "Xenia's flowers."

Miss Ellen McNealis of North Miami Avenue, discovered an old rose blossom on a plant in her yard, Friday morning.

CASHIER OF BIG CONCERN MAKES EVIDENCE PUBLIC

"How Tanlac could build me up to such splendid health when I was so rundown and nothing else helped me is more than I can understand," says Miss May Jones, Kennard Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, popular young business woman employed as cashier by a large corporation.

"For a year or more I had suffered from nervousness, indigestion and loss of appetite, and I felt listless, dull and tired out all the time. Heartburn and gas caused me serious distress after eating. I had fearful headaches too, and could never sleep well. I was so worn out and nervous that a long line of customers before the cash window confused me, and I simply felt miserable."

"Well, Tanlac benefited me from the very start, and now I haven't an ailment of any kind. I don't see how anyone who suffers like I did can afford not to take Tanlac, for the treatment has certainly rewarded me with a full measure of good health."

Tanlac is for sale by all good drug gists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere. adv

OLD RESIDENT NEAR DEATH

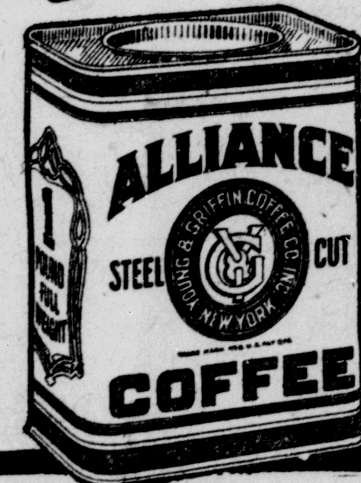

"I had not eaten food for 10 days and was slowly starving to death. Given up by five doctors, I tried a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, which gave relief at once. I am 75 years old and would have died but for your wonderful medicine. The jaundice is all gone and I am gaining appetite and strength every day." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere. adv

Legal Notice

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the Spring Valley Rural School District, Greene County, Ohio, at the regular place of meeting of such Board until 12:00 o'clock noon, Central Time, Tuesday, June 19, 1923.

The above proposal will be for furnishing the necessary labor and material for the erection and completion of a High School Building in accordance with the plans and specifications on file with the Clerk of the Board of Education, Mr. Henry S. Noggie, Xenia, Ohio, R. No. 1.

Plans are also on file at the offices of E. J. Mounstephen, Architect, 508 U. B. Building, Dayton, Ohio.

Such plans are on file for the purpose of public inspection at any time during ordinary business hours until the date for receiving bids.

Each proposal must contain the name of every person interested there- in and shall be accompanied by a sufficient guarantee, hereinafter referred to or some disinterested person that if the proposal be accepted a contract will be entered into and the performance of it properly secured and must be submitted on blank forms which forms will be furnished upon application to either the Clerk of the Board of Education or to the Archi- tect.

Bids will be received as follows:

Bids for labor and material must be separately stated.

Bids will be received for the gen- eral construction of the entire work according to law, including heating and ventilating, plumbing, gas fitting and sewerage.

Separate bids will be received for the general construction of the entire work according to law.

Separate bids will be received for the heating and ventilating work.

None but the lowest responsible bid will be accepted, and the Board reserves the right to reject all of the bids or accept any bid for labor and material which is the lowest in the aggregate.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a surety, either certified check or bond, satisfactory to the Owner, to the amount of 50 per cent of the total amount of the proposal, as a guarantee that if successful, the contractor submitting the proposal will enter a contract immediately and begin actual work when instructed to do so.

Should any bid be rejected, forth- with to the bidder, the surety of the successful bidder will be returned upon proper execution of the contract and bond.

The successful bidder for any part of the work shall furnish the Owner with a satisfactory surety com- pany bond, which bond must be ap- proved by the Attorney for the Board of Education. This bond shall be equal to 50 per cent of the contract price, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and full payment by said contractor or all material and labor used in the building, same to be in strict accordance with the laws existing in the State of Ohio.

By order of Board of Education of Spring Valley Township School Dis- trict.

PAVING WORK NORTH OF CITY VIRTUALLY COMPLETED NOW

The Republic Asphalt Company completed construction of the North Detroit Street paving from Fairground Avenue to the north corporation line Wednesday.

With the exception of the laying of a brick cross way at the southern end of the new paving along the tracks of the Springfield and Xenia traction, all the work is finished. The traction company held up this work pending the arrival of heavier rails to be installed and absorbed the paving company from waiting to complete the work. When the rails arrive the traction company will put in the brick work.

Frank Jackson, superintendent for the paving company had the entire stretch of street cleaned and brushed Thursday before the work was officially turned over to the city. The new paving, officials believe is one of the prettiest sections of asphalt street in the city and will greatly improve and beautify the north approach of the street.

Due to the paving construction tracks of the traction company have been moved to the center of the street thus improving property on the east side of the thoroughfare. With the completion of the paving by the county of the Springfield pike between Xenia and Yellow Springs motorists will enjoy good highway in and out of the city in that direction. Xenia Country Club members are also favored by the new paving which extends almost to the country club entrance.

WANTS EQUIPMENT TO PROTECT LIFE

Sheriff Morris Sharp will ask the Greene County Commissioners to provide a boat and other equipment with which to search for bodies of drowning victims when the commission meets Saturday morning.

Necessity of such equipment was emphasized when the Sheriff's office received a call for help from the vicinity of Huffman Conservancy Dam where Clarence Smart, 18, Beaver Creek Township youth, was drowned Wednesday evening.

The boy was unable to swim and sank in deep water. Efforts of people nearby were fruitless in the attempt to locate the body until Thursday morning when help was received from Dayton. Sheriff Sharp believes Greene County should own a boat fitted on a carriage arrangement and grappling hooks.

MRS. TOD AT THE HELM

Columbus, June 22.—Mrs. David Tod, whose appointment as chairman of the women's division of the Republican state central committee was announced by Chairman Charles W. Montgomery today, is the widow of former State Senator David Tod of Youngstown, whose grandfather, Governor David Tod, was the Civil War governor of Ohio. LOWER COURT IS REVERSED IN RULING

Judgment of the Court of Common Pleas in the case of Melissa Harner against Mina Oglesbee, administratrix of the estate of Daniel Oglesbee, asking damages for alleged breach of contract, was reversed by the Court of Appeals in a decision handed down Thursday on the question of error in the lower court sustaining a demurrer to the reply.

The case, which has been many times and many months in litigation in Greene County Courts, is based upon a contract dated October, 12, 1900, which provided that the plaintiff, then Melissa Curry, should deed to Daniel Oglesbee her 56-acre farm and agree to be his housekeeper as long as he needed one in exchange for which his home farm of 163 acres, with all the furniture, a horse and cow, should be deeded to the plaintiff at his death.

The plaintiff alleges the terms of this contract were never fulfilled by Mina Oglesbee, administratrix of the estate. In reversing the judgment of the lower court the case will now probably be held on its merits. Attorneys W. S. Howard and F. H. Dean represent the plaintiff and Attorneys Miller and Finney compose counsel for the defendant.

William Martin Spahr

William Martin Spahr was born Sept. 12, 1856, died June 15, 1923, aged 66 years, 9 months and 3 days. He was the eldest of nine children born to Daniel and Isabelle Jane Spahr. Almost all of his life was spent in Greene County Ohio.

He had a sunny disposition which brought forth many smiles where ever he went and gained for him many friends. Clothed in this ever happy outward expression was a more serious self which only those who knew him well appreciated. He was kind hearted, always willing to help when ever he could; always considerate of other's faults, never did he say anything cruel of them, if he could not say anything good of them he said nothing. He was ever true to the confidences confided in him. He made no pretensions. A strong devotion existed between him and his near relatives. He leaves to mourn our loss two brothers, Thomas Spahr, of Jamestown, Ohio, Albert Spahr Rice Lake, Wis., two sisters, Mrs. Walter Schooley, Springfield, Ohio, Mrs. Lewis Harless, Xenia, O., also one half brother, Edward Spahr Union City Ind., besides several nephews and nieces.

Styles BY LENORE

Whether or not the American women has the originality in clothes which we hear so often credited to the women of France, it must be admitted that she shows a great deal of discrimination in her choice of the fashions which Paris sends us. Recall, if you can the various styles that were launched last February and March. When there was a choice of wearing dresses with the back exaggeratedly flat and all the fulness drawn over the stomach, America looked and admired, but went in for pleats. She liked godet-fulness moderately, and has taken the cocarde ribbon trimmings of Lanvin and the colorful prints to her bosom, but placed the veto on certain of the form-molding princess dresses which are becoming only to the tall svelte mannequins and the rare woman who is built like her. The model sketched illustrates one of the fashions that has been liked since its introduction early in the season—a skirt that is flat all around without outlining the shape of the figure, but given softness and grace by fullness at one side. This is accomplished by cutting a section of the skirt on the bias. When gathered up the effect is circular. The waistline, too, is somewhat shorter than we have been accustomed to, and the square neck with its soft ribbon treatment, the tucked shoulders, and soft girdle, are, all typical of the simplicity which American women adore.

BUSINESS MAN CONVICTED.

Cleveland, June 21.—Edward Markling, Canton business man, was found guilty of possessing 100 ounces of narcotic drugs by a jury in federal court here. Judge Paul J. Jones deferred sentence. A sentence of five years in Atlanta penitentiary was imposed on Clifton Cheetham, Akron. Federal agents testified he ran a large "dope den."

THE MISFIT • By Jane Phelps

A DESPERATE QUARREL WITH HORACE

Chapter XXVIII

In spite of what had happened, Horace stared at his wife, unmoving.

"I am your husband, and more competent to judge these things than you are. My name, my mother's name, never has been spoken in connection with any scandal. I shall not permit it to be spoken of so now."

"You don't love me! Never have loved me. What you wanted to marry me for is beyond me!" Natalie stormed. "You brought me here to this tomb, set me down in it, then thought I was fool enough to be satisfied. I am young, I want life. What good is all your money? Tell me that! You and your cold mother—what have you done to make me happy? What kind of a life have I led? I hate it all! Hate it, I tell you!"

Horace had listened to her tirade in silence, but when she finished he, too for the first time lost control of himself. He ordered Natalie not to disobey him, declared he would lock her up, insisted she apologize to his mother, give up all communication with Craig Harper and conduct herself according to the laws he laid down.

"I'll leave you!" Natalie threatened again. "Then you can marry that piece of property you have always been in love with. Beverly Rainford shows she would be willing. You have no right to dictate to me! I won't stand for it!"

Before Horace turned and left her quarrel had become very bitter. Natalie taunted him in her old fashion, the veneer of the last few months dropped from her, and she talked as she did in the old days before she knew him. Horace equally as bitter, his anger at white heat, said things that seared and maddened Natalie.

That night while he played chess with his mother, Natalie picked her trunk, selecting only her plainest clothes. Then, dressed in a dark suit and close hat, she crept down the stairs and out onto the street. She went at once to a boarding house for working girls she knew of, took a room, using her maiden name. She called herself "Mrs. Horton."

In the morning she went to the office of the law firm for whom she had worked before her marriage. Here she asked for Mr. Marshall, reminding him of his promise to employ her should she ever want to come back. told him she called herself Horton to avoid comment, and before noon was re-established at her old desk.

Mr. Marshall had asked her if she were sure she wanted to return, had told her he did not wish to be curious, but had she thought what it would mean to leave the luxurious life she had been living and returned to that of an office girl.

Natalie assured him on this point, said she had left Horace, that she never would go back to him. Then she begged Mr. Marshall not to speak of it again.

"Does your husband know you intended to come here?" her former employer asked.

"No."

"We still serve as his lawyers. He may come in—"

"Your clients are always announced. I can disappear. If you don't want me, Mr. Marshall, don't hesitate to say so—if it will be unpleasant or uncomfortable for you. I—"

"I do want you, Mrs. Grand—Mrs. Horton. I never have succeeded in finding a secretary who pleased me since you left. I was only thinking of you."

So it was arranged and Natalie, less than a year after she left, was back in her old position.

She communicated with no one for a week, then she went to see Etta. To her astonishment, Etta censured her, strongly and advised her to go back to Horace.

"You know he and his mother were different when you married him," she told her. "I know it was hard in some ways, but you loved Horace and are his wife. You had everything in the world you wanted and perhaps had you tried you could have been friends with the old lady. Whether you could or not, I don't see how you should leave Horace. There's no one, nothing in the world, could drive me away from Clyde."

"You don't understand, Etta. I never belonged there. I was a 'misfit' just as Mrs. Crandell said, always would be."

Natalie answered wearily. Even Etta couldn't understand.

How all your youthful instincts draw you to the Paige 4-passenger Phaeton! The trim lines, with a hint of dash, mark its fine breeding. You will always be proud of it. In sheer performance it will exceed your fondest dreams. Steering ease for the frailest hand. So gentle the Paige clutch that stalling or jerking never occurs.

Restful body positions with low-set seats and ample foot room make comfortable riding. Rear springs more than 5 feet long laugh at rough roads. No thought here of fatigue. Compartments and pockets provide space for traveling accessories—2 lock-equipped "cubby-holes" safely carry valued articles. And for long tours—a folding rack in the rear accommodates heavy luggage.

The Paige 70 H.P. motor performs eagerly at 2 miles an hour or 70, throttle-controlled. Rare, indeed, is your need for gear shifting. Motor life is increased and its youthful vigor retained, by the Paige high-pressure oiling system.

Bodies, too, are soundly built. No body squeaks or rattles mar the performance of your Paige—double strips of patent leather keep metal from touching metal or wood. Substantial finishing—not a piece of imitation leather in your Paige.

For years you can confidently expect the Paige to retain its fine performance, silence, comfort.

Paige is the only manufacturer of finest quality cars with a tremendous volume in smaller cars the size and price of the Paige-built Jewett. This enormous volume reduces Paige overhead by hundreds of dollars on each Paige car—your saving when you buy your Paige.

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK SEIZE STOCK OF LIQUORS ON SHIP

CONVICT SLAYS SHERIFF DURING SWAMP BATTLE

Escaped "Lifer" Holds 100
Rifleman at Bay in
Michigan

Escanaba, Mich. June 22.—Hidden in the depths of a desolate swamp near Maple Ridge, George Natchos, escaped Marquette prison "lifer," continued today his defiance of 100 riflemen who sought him.

Already one man has been killed by the fugitive and a second wounded. Natchos, armed with a revolver taken from a Marquette prison guard, when he escaped returns fire whenever fired upon. One bullet killing Sheriff Frank Curran and another wounding J. C. Cleghorn, state police lieutenant, George Blochas, who escaped with Natchos, has been recaptured. He told the posse that Natchos is determined to die fighting rather than surrender.

Mosquitoes and other insects infest the swamp and the fugitive is thought to be without food and water.

SERIOUSLY BURNED IN STILL BLAST

Dayton, June 22.—Lawrence Wilson, 26, was burned seriously about the arms and back Friday morning when a still exploded in his home at the rear of 123 North Madison street. He was placed under arrest for violating the liquor laws and was taken to Miami Valley hospital for treatment.

Firemen who responded to the alarm were at first denied admittance to the house by Wilson and his wife, who told them that the blaze had been extinguished. The firefighters insisted upon entering and found the room in which the still had been set up a mass of flames.

Police believe Wilson refused to permit the firemen to enter because he thought they would discover the still and summon police. This is exactly what happened, and Sergeant Nixander's liquor squad was on the scene in a few minutes.

DEMONSTRATION OF AIR FORCES IN ENGLAND TO COME

London, June 22.—England expects to show tomorrow that she leads the world in air power. At Hendon, the royal air forces will take the air in giant machines that will fly with full military equipment and munitions at the rate of 150 miles an hour at a height of 10,000 feet. These machines, in addition, will be almost as easily handled as small combat machines for twisting and turning in sniping operations.

The naval department also comes forward with its air claims, reporting a successful test for its latest torpedo carriers capable of flying, fully equipped with torpedoes at 100 miles an hour. The Hendon exhibition also will show troop-carriers capable of carrying through the air at high speed 20 fully equipped troops. The Avro firm at Aldershot will demonstrate a monster bombing machine for the first time publicly. It has a 1,000 horse power Napier engine.

URGES CONSTRUCTION OF NEW WATERWAY

Toledo, June 22.—Assailing the state of New York and its officials for "provincialism and local self-interest" in opposing the construction of the Great Lakes-Tide Water canal, former Governor James P. Goodrich, of Indiana, before the Ohio Bankers Association in annual convention here today, strongly urged the construction of this waterway to assure the industrial and agricultural prosperity of the middle-west.

DIES BECAUSE OF HEAT
Cincinnati, June 22.—George Ord, 60 years old, 17 West Sixth street, Newport, Ky. died last night of a prostration when being taken to St. Elizabeth hospital, Covington, in a Newport ambulance. The patient was overcome by the heat while employed as a porter in a cafe on the street and Columbia Ave.

Treasury Department Orders Agents to Break Seals on the Baltic
FIRST CASE TO ARRIVE
Three Mile Limit Decision of Court is Violated By White Star Liner

Washington, June 22.—Customs officials in New York were ordered by the Treasury Department today to break the seals and seize all beverage liquor on the steamship Baltic which arrived in that port this morning.

New York, June 22.—Following eleventh hour instructions telegraphed from the Treasury Department the U. S. Customs authorities here this afternoon, boarded the Cunard liner Berengaria, when she docked at the foot of West 14th Street, broke the British customs seals on a supply of liquor in the ship's storeroom and officially seized it.

The arrival of the White Star liner Baltic a few hours earlier, also with liquor aboard, for beverage purposes on the return voyage was not expected, as in the case of the Berengaria, and the Baltic's liquor was merely placed under guard. It will however be dealt with later in the same fashion as that of the Berengaria.

New York, June 22.—The first test of the Treasury Department ruling following the U. S. Supreme Court decision concerning the bringing of liquor within the three-mile sea limit by incoming trans-Atlantic liners arose unexpectedly today when the White Star steamship Baltic, without preliminary warning slipped into port carrying liquor for her return voyage.

The customs officials had not anticipated the necessity of taking action until the arrival of the Cunard liner Berengaria and the Baltic's previous arrival drove all the local officials to hurried conferences. The result was a technical seizure of the liquor which was placed under customs guards, but the seals of the British customs on the liquor storeroom were not immediately broken by the United States authorities.

It was pointed out by the customs authorities that the seizure of the Baltic's liquor would automatically cause the arrest of the commander, Captain Roberts, for alleged violation of the Volstead law as interpreted by the Supreme Court decision. However, no action in the respect was taken immediately.

When the Baltic reached quarantine, the boarding customs officers were presented with a manifesto by the ship's commander listing besides 70 bottles of brandy allowable for medicinal purposes, the following liquor list as stored for the Baltic's return voyage:

5,736 bottles of lager, ale and stout; 305 bottles of whiskey and brandy; 119 bottles of wine; 38 bottles of liquor.

When the customs officials who boarded the Baltic discovered that the ship had this liquor aboard, they wired authorities at the customs house and when the Baltic docked at the pier, at the foot of west 20th street, other customs officers placed the storeroom under guard which means a technical seizure of the liquor. Further instructions, as to whether or not the liquor should be removed from the boat were awaited by the customs authorities here from the treasury department at Washington.

ASA G. CANDLER, SR. MARRIES SOUTHERN WIDOW WEDNESDAY

Atlanta, Ga. June 22.—While his lawyers were in conference trying to settle the $500,000 breach of promise suit filed against him by Mrs. Onezima De Bouchelle, New Orleans society beauty, Asa G. Candler, Sr., 70 years old, founder of the Coca Cola Company, and said to be the South's wealthiest citizen, Wednesday married Mrs. May Little Ragin, a stenographer.

They left for a honeymoon in Washington and New York, and will return home July 5.

MACHINE DAMAGED

A Ford touring car belonging to A. Ellis, of Lynn street, was damaged when it crashed into the rear of a Ford service owned by The Republic Asphalt Co., and driven by Frank Jackson, superintendent, Thursday afternoon. Jackson had stopped his machine in front of the Gazette building when the car driven by Ellis crashed into it.

The radiator on the Ellis machine was smashed, the front damaged and the windshield broken. Ellis said he applied his brakes but that they refused to work.

SEEK RELEASE OF MYSTERY MAN AND "HER" HUSBAND

Masquerader Fails to Break Down During Period of Questioning

June 22.—Release on writs of habeas corpus of Fred Thompson, the sex masquerader; his "husband," Frank Carrick, and his legal wife, Marie Clark, held as suspects in the murder of Richard C. Tesmer, was asked in court today, the fifth since their arrest. It was said the attorney who asked the writ has been retained in their behalf by Mrs. Earl Deer, wife of a bandit hanged here last year.

Thompson was still unshaken today in his denials that he knows anything of the murder, which, according to Tesmer's widow, was committed by a smiling girl bandit, Frank Carrick, with whom Thompson lived for 14 years as "wife" in the psychopathic hospital following a mental breakdown as the result of being deprived of the drugs to which both he and Thompson are addicted.

Police place little credence in a "confession" made by Carrick, a rambling admission that the things the police had been asking him about for hours was true. When told that Carrick had "come through" Thompson merely sneered and said they had better get a doctor for his man. The man who posed as a girl and a wife has surprised the police by his failure to collapse under the strain of four days of questioning, unstimulated by either drugs or liquor. For the first time since his arrest he was undisturbed today, held in a cell at an outlying station and permitted to repair the ravages to his make up, while the police centered their efforts upon his legal wife, Marie Clark, as she is known in the strange triangle.

It was under this name that she was married to Thompson, although she was born Marie Kosakowska of Polish parentage, in Michigan, 23 years ago. When she came to Chicago at an early age she took the name of Clark. She met Thompson as a woman, but was told by a mutual friend that he was a man. They were married, fled to a farm to escape the angry "husband" Carrick, but were discovered and a series of jealous quarrels was finally patched up by all of them living together.

Police said today that if efforts to indict Thompson for the Tesmer murder fail, he and Carrick will be turned over to the federal government as draft evaders, Carrick having obtained exemption because of his dependent "wife."

London, June 22.—Mlle. Brusiloff, daughter of Brusiloff, commander of the Russian red army, has been executed at Moscow for concealing church treasures, according to a Moscow dispatch to the Evening News today.

In consideration of her father's military services she was offered a pardon, but refused it, saying "I cannot accept mercy at the bloody hands of the executioners of the Russian people."

Gen. Brusiloff was one of the foremost generals of the czarist regime, but cast his lot with the soviets when they came into power.

THIRTY SEVEN MEN TURN OUT TO HELP BEAUTIFY SPOT

Undaunted by a scorching sun and the fact that the thermometer was soaring near the one hundred in the shade mark, thirty-seven public spirited Xenia business men met at the Kelly Cordage Company office Friday at one o'clock and marched to the old dump on Dayton hill where they put in the afternoon clearing off the rubbish, smoothing off the ground and putting the plot into shape for a public playground. Dayton Hill residents turned out in force to aid the other volunteer workers and the work went along in splendid shape in spite of the intense heat.

The Dayton Hill women had a large refreshment stand erected in the shade near the old Work House and served the workers with sandwiches and lemonade. The women state that the workers consumed literally gallons of lemonade.

The Stout Coal Company and the Lloyd Contracting Company had their teams on the lot and the city teams were also used in the work of leveling off the ground and hauling away the rubbish. It was impossible to entirely finish the job in one afternoon but the work was so nearly completed that the matter of putting on the finishing touches will be comparatively simple.

The workers, arrayed in overalls and wearing wide straw hats, tackled the job in a businesslike manner and proved that they were fully equal to the strong arm jobs. Those in charge of the enterprise are delighted with the response made and greatly appreciate the splendid work done by the volunteer workers.

ODD FELLOWS SELECT NORWALK
Middletown, O. June 22.—Ohio Odd Fellows will hold their Grand lodge session next year at Norwalk. It was decided by unanimous vote of the delegates.

In consideration of her father's military services she was offered a pardon, but refused it, saying "I cannot accept mercy at the bloody hands of the executioners of the Russian people."

Gen. Brusiloff was one of the foremost generals of the czarist regime, but cast his lot with the soviets when they came into power.

FATALLY INJURED

Columbus, June 22.—Clarence Logan, 25, is in Mercy Hospital, probably fatally injured, as the result of the truck he was driving being demolished by an interurban car, when it stalled on the Scioto Valley traction company's crossing at Rees station, a few miles south of here.

SAY HEAT WAVE UNPRECEDENTED OVER THE LAND

Many Points Give Details
Of Deaths and Suffering
In Nation

CASUALTY LIST HEAVY

Scores of Prostrations In
New York Due Directly
To Intense Heat

New York, June 22.—With a toll of 21 dead and more than 100 prostrated in New York and vicinity, relief came today from the heat wave which for two days held the city in its grip.

Cooling breezes swept over the island out of the St. Lawrence valley, the mercury hovering around 80 degrees during the morning.

The early night hours were sweltering. Thousands again sought the cooling sands of the beaches for the night; others once more slept in parks and in the lowlands along the East river beneath the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges.

Weather forecaster Starr predicted a continuation of the cool weather.

New York, June 22.—At least 13 deaths in and near New York were checked up for two days as directly due to the heat. The official thermometer recorded 93 and 95, respectively. More than 100 prostrations kept ambulances busy.

At Pittsburgh the heat was so terrific that hundreds of men had to leave their jobs in the hot steel mills, slowing down business considerably.

At Boston the thousands who spent the last two nights on the sands of Revere beach woke up to find a smart breeze fanning them into comfort after 48 hours of agony. The mounting sun, however, brought another burning day. Intense suffering is reported from the Hub's tenement districts, where thousands of families moved into the streets to save themselves from suffocation.

Nine deaths figure in incomplete returns from the state of Michigan, while in Connecticut some thermometers registered 100, and the two hottest days in memory were reported. "Heat came to easterners from a promised lowering of temperatures throughout New England."

Heavy rainfall was reported from the Great Lake regions and Duluth reported more comfortable weather.

In Ohio the casualty list for two days bears 22 names, including eight deaths from prostration, two from suicide, one from lightning and 11 from drowning. The mercury continued in the nineties.

Five heat deaths and scores of prostrations are reported from Philadelphia. All public schools in the Quaker City were closed when the thermometer stood at 92. Wednesday the hottest point reached was 98. The crest of the heat wave passed in Chicago with a total of 22 deaths recorded.

In New York the situation for two days has been really serious. The parks have largely been thrown open to those who were unable to sleep in their hot homes and the green lawns of Central park now provide "flops" for thousands, among whom are great numbers of women and children. The fire department turned hoses on nearly a quarter of a million kids at improvised showers throughout the city. In the congested districts all street hydrants and fire house showers were busy all day. Hundreds last night slept on the benches and grass in City Hall and Battery parks, while the worried animals in the two big zoos of Central and Bronx parks were moaning in company with great throngs of families.

Columbus, June 22.—Increased heat today added to the inconvenience and suffering of sweltering humanity. At 1 o'clock this afternoon U. S. weather bureau officials announced an official temperature of 91 degrees as compared with 89 degrees at 1 p. m. yesterday. On the streets the temperature was about 10 degrees hotter than the official reading. Twenty-nine lives have been claimed by the intense heat.

PHONE RATES UPHELD

Columbus, June 22.—Telephone rates in effect at Toledo since July 1, 1920, were sustained by the public utilities commission when it dismissed the protest and complaint filed by the city. The rates, put into effect by the old Central Union Telephone company, have been charged telephone users by the Ohio Bell company while the case has been pending before the utilities commission. The protest against the rates was based on the valuation placed on the telephone company's Toledo properties.

VOLCANO ERUPTION WANES—PLACE FARM LOSS AT 10 MILLION

Slowness of Lava Advance Enables Residents to Reach Safety

Rome, June 22.—Mount Hina's eruption waned in fury today and at noon there was only a small trickle of lava advancing at the rate of six yards an hour. Rumbles could still be heard in the interior of the volcano with an occasional explosion.

Army aviators who flew over the crater, through clouds of black smoke and sickening fumes, reported that lava was flowing from only some of the half dozen fissures that had opened since the eruption began last Sunday.

Although the agricultural loss is put at $10,000,000, King Victor Emmanuel, who investigated on the scene informed the authorities the catastrophe was less appalling than first believed. The slowness of the lava advance enabled all persons in the threatened communities to leave safely.

Linguglossa was saved as though by a miracle. At latest reports the lava was 900 yards distant from the center of the town.

A black pall of smoke and poisonous fumes hangs over the countryside. Troops are having difficulty to prevent peasants from returning to the evacuated villages. Already some of the peasants have returned to their homes and are breaking up the cold lava congealed over their fields.

Cleveland, June 22.—Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton was to confer with receivers for the Cleveland Discount Company today, relative to possible action following the report filed by Haskins and Sells, certified public accountants in which a probable loss to common and preferred stockholders totalling $7,234,823 was shown.

According to the figures made public late yesterday, Common stock which has been changing hands recently for 30 cents a share, is of no value whatever and receivers say in a letter sent to stockholders that the value of $7,015,000 preferred stock outstanding is "extremely problematical."

SEEK TO FIND BOX

Columbus, June 22.—Efforts of Sheriff Holycross and Deputies dragging Big Walnut creek for a mysterious box, eight feet long and three feet wide, weighted down with a heavy chain, said to have been thrown from a bridge into the creek by an unknown autoist, were unsuccessful up to noon today. The search is to be continued this afternoon.

HARDING WOULD MODIFY WORLD COURT PROGRAM

President Eager to Have
America Represented
In Proposal

YEARNS FOR PEACE

Chief Executive Makes First
Address in St. Louis on Thursday.

St. Louis, June 22.—President Harding, in his speech here last night advocating American membership in the world court, threw a large sized pebble into the already muddled political stream.

The president declared for drastic modifications in the court proposal, as drafted by Hughes and submitted to the senate. He declared he was ready to accept any compromise necessary to compose the differences among Republican senators and to bring the United States into the court, making the latter an agency for world peace. The president threw into the discard the reservations written by Hughes and stated he would agree to other and more stringent reservations which might satisfy all those who have doubts about the court. He asserted that he would make no attempt to coerce the senate, nor embark upon any "crusade," but plainly intimated it was his purpose to try to get the court proposal through the senate speedily, thereby forestalling all attempts to make it a campaign issue.

What the president desires most of all, he said, is to have the United States go into the affairs of Europe. This was boldly stated in the following paragraph in his speech: "I could not do otherwise. My soul yearns for peace. My heart is anguished by the sufferings of war. My spirit is eager to serve. My passion is for justice over force. My hope is in the great court. My mind is made up. My resolution is fixed."

Proposes Modifications.
The president declared he was willing to go to any length to separate the court from the league. To this end he proposed, among others, the following modifications of the Hughes plan:

Removal of the election of judges from the council and assembly of the league and giving the court itself power to fill all vacancies. This would make the court self-perpetuating.

Taking from the league the power to fix compensation of the judges and transferring it to The Hague tribunal or to a new commission appointed by the member nations.

Discard the exclusive privilege now enjoyed by the league to seek legal guidance from the court and extend this right to all nations whether they are in the league or not.

These changes would do away with the disparity of voting under which the British empire has six votes to every other nation's one. The president said he did not share the misapprehensions of some court opponents over Britain's six to one voting arrangement.

The president denied any intention of seeking to take the United States into the league of nations. He went back to his speech of Aug. 28, 1920, in which he asserted he would take all that was good in the league covenant and in The Hague tribunal and make an association of nations. This is what he is trying to do in making the court proposal, he said. He declared the country is as firmly against the league as it was in 1920, that the league issue is as "dead as slavery" and it was the part of "wisdom and common sense to let it rest in the deep grave to which it has been conveyed and turn our thoughts to living things."

At one point the president declared the court must be completely free from the league and that his preference was for complete independence between the two. But a moment later he asserted that the United States can not suggest to nations already in the court that the whole plan should be set aside and modified, merely to satisfy American objections. Further along he said the nations of Europe would rather have the United States in on any terms than remain aloof, "a hermit nation."

The president expressed the belief that the tide of public sentiment will be for the court and will be reflected in the senate. He declared the opposition to be a hopeless minority.

The speech, the most important the president has chosen to make on his tour, was delivered in the Coliseum. The house, estimated to hold 15,000 persons, was crowded, despite the terrific heat. The president was given an enthusiastic greeting.

The president left St. Louis early this morning on the second leg of his western trip. The presidential special arrived in Kansas City shortly before noon and there tonight Mr. Harding will deliver his expected address on the railroad situation. It is expected that he will endorse the plan of consolidating the railroads of the country into a few great systems as the only method of obtaining that orderly and adequate service which the public demands.

He went back to his speech of Aug. 28, 1920, in which he asserted he would take all that was good in the league covenant and in The Hague tribunal and make an association of nations. This is what he is trying to do in making the court proposal, he said. He declared the country is as firmly against the league as it was in 1920, that the league issue is as "dead as slavery" and it was the part of "wisdom and common sense to let it rest in the deep grave to which it has been conveyed and turn our thoughts to living things."

At one point the president declared the court must be completely free from the league and that his preference was for complete independence between the two. But a moment later he asserted that the United States can not suggest to nations already in the court that the whole plan should be set aside and modified, merely to satisfy American objections. Further along he said the nations of Europe would rather have the United States in on any terms than remain aloof, "a hermit nation."

The president expressed the belief that the tide of public sentiment will be for the court and will be reflected in the senate. He declared the opposition to be a hopeless minority.

The speech, the most important the president has chosen to make on his tour, was delivered in the Coliseum. The house, estimated to hold 15,000 persons, was crowded, despite the terrific heat. The president was given an enthusiastic greeting.

The president left St. Louis early this morning on the second leg of his western trip. The presidential special arrived in Kansas City shortly before noon and there tonight Mr. Harding will deliver his expected address on the railroad situation. It is expected that he will endorse the plan of consolidating the railroads of the country into a few great systems as the only method of obtaining that orderly and adequate service which the public demands.

St. Louis, June 22.—President Harding, in his speech here last night advocating American membership in the world court, threw a large sized pebble into the already muddled political stream.

The president declared for drastic modifications in the court proposal, as drafted by Hughes and submitted to the senate. He declared he was ready to accept any compromise necessary to compose the differences among Republican senators and to bring the United States into the court, making the latter an agency for world peace. The president threw into the discard the reservations written by Hughes and stated he would agree to other and more stringent reservations which might satisfy all those who have doubts about the court. He asserted that he would make no attempt to coerce the senate, nor embark upon any "crusade," but plainly intimated it was his purpose to try to get the court proposal through the senate speedily, thereby forestalling all attempts to make it a campaign issue.

What the president desires most of all, he said, is to have the United States go into the affairs of Europe. This was boldly stated in the following paragraph in his speech: "I could not do otherwise. My soul yearns for peace. My heart is anguished by the sufferings of war. My spirit is eager to serve. My passion is for justice over force. My hope is in the great court. My mind is made up. My resolution is fixed."

Proposes Modifications.
The president declared he was willing to go to any length to separate the court from the league. To this end he proposed, among others, the following modifications of the Hughes plan:

Removal of the election of judges from the council and assembly of the league and giving the court itself power to fill all vacancies. This would make the court self-perpetuating.

Taking from the league the power to fix compensation of the judges and transferring it to The Hague tribunal or to a new commission appointed by the member nations.

Discard the exclusive privilege now enjoyed by the league to seek legal guidance from the court and extend this right to all nations whether they are in the league or not.

These changes would do away with the disparity of voting under which the British empire has six votes to every other nation's one. The president said he did not share the misapprehensions of some court opponents over Britain's six to one voting arrangement.

The president denied any intention of seeking to take the United States into the league of nations. He went back to his speech of Aug. 28, 1920, in which he asserted he would take all that was good in the league covenant and in The Hague tribunal and make an association of nations. This is what he is trying to do in making the court proposal, he said. Further along he said the nations of Europe would rather have the United States in on any terms than remain aloof, "a hermit nation."

CONGRESSMAN DYER DELIVERS ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS BEFORE RECORD CROWD AT WILBERFORCE UNIVERSITY

The Hon. L. C. Dyer, Congressman from St. Louis, Mo., author of the Dyer Anti-Lynch Bill, delivered the commencement address to the graduating class of Wilberforce University, Thursday morning in the Auditorium of Galloway Hall which proved too small to accommodate an estimated attendance of ten thousand people.

Reputed to be the largest gathering in sixty years of the famous colored institution of learning. The campus grounds and lawns of the residents were freely donated to the visitors who journeyed in automobiles as far as from Pittsburgh and Chicago.

After the preliminary exercises of the program, President John A. Gregg of the school paid a high tribute to the distinguished visitor, who he likened to Abraham Lincoln, championing the cause of protection to all citizens of the United States, whether they be white or black.

Mr. Dyer was greeted with a great ovation of applause, two thousand people arose and gave him the "Hallelujah Salute," as he arose to speak. Decriing law violation and the tendency in some parts of the country toward lynchings, Congressman Dyer declared: "If all men would recognize the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of men, there would be no race question in America." Basing his address upon equal protection of the law for all, the speaker paid the Negro race a high compliment in its steady advancement in religion, education and industry, calling attention to the fact that this race constitutes one fifth of the population of the United States.

Touching on the religious angle Congressman Dyer said, that according to the last census, there are 45,000 colored churches in the country with 4,500,000 communicants, pastored by 25,000 ministers. More than two millions of colored children are attending the public schools and over 100,000 are in normal schools and colleges, said the speaker, in pointing out that education everywhere is sought by the race.

Economic advancement," said the speaker, "has also been good. A half century ago Negroes were principally agricultural workers. Now you will find them in all walks of life. Sixty thousand or more are in the professions; fifty thousand in business; 450 newspapers are published by the race 40,000 are in grocery or other stores; 500,000 are working in trades; they control 78 banks with a capital of $100,000,000; they operate over 900,000 farms with 100,000,000 acres of land. The value of all property owned by the race in the United States is estimated at one billion five hundred million dollars. This is in 60 years. No record of a race is equal to this in all the world."

Touching on the anti-lynching bill which he sponsored in the U. S. Congress, Mr. Dyer said that its purpose was the "assuring to every person within the jurisdiction of every state the equal protection of the laws." It passed the House of Representatives January 28, 1922, by a large majority and failed to come to a vote in the Senate prior to its adjournment March 4, 1923. The speaker called attention to the fact that the "Negro race is building up its own social status based upon character, culture and the new agencies of life. The races must live together in this country. They must mingle together in business and public life. In purely personal and social matters, each can and will go into his own company."

Reverting to his bill, Congressman Dyer said that it is for the purpose of enforcing the 14th amendment, which provides that no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction, the equal protection of the law. The bill is parallel to the Volstead Act which provides for enforcement of the 18th amendment, he said.

"It is high time that the Congress of the United States provide the appropriate legislation authorized in the 14th amendment of the constitution," said Congressman Dyer. "The 18th amendment would be of no avail without the Volstead law and so the 14th amendment means nothing without an enforcement act such as the one proposed. Negroes were drafted from every state in the union to serve in the World War. If we can do that, can we not also, by the United States Congress, enact a law to see that the States do not deny to them the equal protection of the laws. I say we have the authority and that is our duty to do it."

At the close of the address President Gregg delivered to the one hundred and fifty graduates diplomas and certificates.

Immediately after the exercises the audience was given the opportunity to witness the marriage of one of the graduates of the Normal Department, Miss Eulalia Lois Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Genie Robinson of Los Angeles, California, to Mr. Charles Summer Long, Jr., of Jacksonville, Florida who graduated last year. The ceremony was conducted by Bishop John Hurst of Baltimore.

The Trustees Board was in session part of Thursday morning and evening. Mr. J. D. M. Russell was elected Secretary and Mr. George F. David of Lexington, Ky., treasurer of the school. Mr. J. N. Goddard of Chicago, was elected principalship of the Academy.

The Bishops' Council met in the afternoon and considered the general affairs of the A. M. E. Church. Bishop W. T. Vernon, recently from South Africa, took up the greater portion of the afternoon session reporting on the work. The Quadrennial Address for the General Conference in Louisville, Ky., next May, will occupy the attention of the Bishops today.

SEEK SOLUTION OF MAN'S DEATH

Newark, O., June 22—A somewhat different phase was thrown on the murder of George Forschler by his stepson, Herman Hildebrand, yesterday morning, at their home northeast of Newark, after the autopsy had been performed by Dr. H. J. Davis of this city, acting under the direction of Coroner S. S. Richards and Prosecutor H. C. Ashcraft.

The operation disclosed the information that the bullet had penetrated the heart and lungs, which causes the coroner to believe that scientifically it would be somewhat doubtful whether Forschler could have run clear around the house, enter the kitchen and barricade the doors before he fell dead on the floor. If this theory is substantiated then the self defense feature is dispelled.

THE FEUD BETWEEN THE RAIL LABOR BOARD AND THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The United States Rail Labor Board scolds the Pennsylvania Railroad as a lawbreaker, a defier of the board and the unions; charges it with coercing a minority and throttling a majority of its workers; attacks its plan of "employee representation" and calls its tactics indefensible. This verbal lashing marks the climax of a long feud between the board and the Pennsylvania. A quarrel two years old is wound up by this official scolding, the most savage ever given a public utility by an official body.

The Transportation Act of 1920 authorized the setting up of "Boards of Adjustment," made up from road officials and employees, to deal with rules, grievances and working conditions. While the law does not so specify, the Rail Labor Board, created by the same act, assumed that union organizations were to represent the employees on the boards.

The Labor Board ruling meant the "closed shop." In forming its "Adjustment Boards" the Pennsylvania chose to ignore certain unions and created its own "employee representation." This plan barred the non-employee and the outside-the-system union official and made the arrangement a "family affair." There was immediate union protest that this violated Decision 119 of the Labor Board. The board upheld the protest. The feud was on.

The road ignored a board order directing the holding of a new election, at which if the employees desired, the Shop Crafts Federation might be picked to represent the workers. The board formally cited the road for failure to obey the order. On the eve of the issuance of some such rebuke as that just given the road enjoined the board against such action, claiming it had no jurisdiction.

The case went to the United States Supreme Court. On February 19, 1923, the court upheld the board's right to publish such findings, but ruled the board had no power to enforce them. Such rudimentary teeth as the board had grown for itself were knocked out. It must rely on public opinion to enforce its decisions. The lashing given the Pennsylvania is the board's appeal to public opinion.

In the Pennsylvania's case public opinion is bound to be sadly divided. As a test case it will be a poor one for the Labor Board. The Pennsylvania's plan has worked. Even in the early days of the feud more than 65 per cent of the men affected had agreed to the road's plan, and contracts had been made with 150,000 workers. Troubles have been minimized. Public opinion is more interested in results than it is in the technicalities raised by the board's assumptions and interpretations. The public sees eight out of ten of the road's workers now represented under the new plan, notes that it seems to be working well and draws its own conclusions.

Whatever the Pennsylvania's sins of omission or commission, it is not the sole sinner. After the shop strike of 1922, and their frank defiance of the board, the unions cannot come into court with cleans hands. Men and roads alike have been guilty of defying a weak and a make-shift law, and, while the rebuke of the Pennsylvania may help save the board's face, it merely emphasizes its own weakness.

The upshot of its feud with the Pennsylvania gives pith and point to the report that President Harding is ready to urge giving the board real authority to enforce its wage and other decisions. Certainly it should be abolished or else given some authority other than that of a common scold.—Public Ledger.

BRITISH SAY DRY AMERICA NOW PUTS MONEY IN PRECIOUS STONES.

England's diamond industry is the latest field of British industry to be affected by American prohibition, for the profits of the Scottish liquor dealers are being rivaled by those of the Hatton Garden diamond magnates. These dealers are experiencing an increased demand for precious stones throughout America.

The explanation, according to the report of the Federation of British Industries, is that Americans are spending some of their former liquor money for stones. At any rate, the United States is the world's largest consumer of gems of all kinds.

Some of the leading American firms, noted for handling the finest and purest stones, have lately been interesting themselves in "seconds" or slightly spotted ones, indicating that a new class of buyer is being developed.

The demand for diamonds is steadily increasing, but emeralds remain the most precious and rarest stones, costing considerably more today than do diamonds of the same quality.

Emeralds are becoming scarcer on the markets, due to the inroads made on the available supply by the decree of fashion that these stones be worn. The fact also that an emerald was selected by Princess Mary for her engagement ring and that an emerald necklace was worn by the Queen at a recent court have combined in making the stones even more sought after than a few years ago.

The supply is said to have fallen below the demand and comparatively few fine stones are procurable. No stocks in any quantity or variety seem to exist, and the actual rarity of the gems seems to imply that they will be worth even more in the near future.

THE STRIKE TRAGEDY.

In cautioning iron and steel workers against over-use of the strike, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis says:

"Let us be slow to use the strike weapon. The tragedy of every strike it seems to me, is that ultimately it is settled by negotiation or compromise. After men have been idle for months, after women and children have been brought down to the last crust of bread, the representatives of both sides get together around the counsel table and reach settlement. They go right back to where they were when the months of misery began and in almost every case both the worker and the employer have lost by the conflict. Instead of conference after months of industrial battle, I would have counsel before the strike is called."

CLEANSING CREAMS

Don't over use cold cream at any time, but in the hot weather be particularly careful about them. Heavy creams will make the skin too oily; in the summer they are apt to irritate it. In fact, unless you are treating deep wrinkles, I'd advise no cream but cleansing cream for hot weather use.

The formula is as follows:
White wax 1 ounce
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White mineral oil 5 ounces
Rose water 1 1/2 ounces
Borax 30 grains
Oil of bitter almonds 15 drops

I make that last bitter almonds because I love its pungency, but any perfumed oil to the same amount will do.
Use this cream for cleansing; use it after exposure to the sun, it's as good as any other cream as a first aid after burning. Use it before going out with a liberal coating of powder, if your skin isn't oily; it will prevent tanning. Use it on shoulders and arms and especially on elbows which will grow grimy and ugly in the summer time. And if you want it cool and bleaching, use one and a half ounces of thin cucumber juice instead of rose water.

Heavy creams fill up the pores too much, which is their great fault in the hot weather. This cleansing cream is light, it rubs in easily, takes out the dust as you want it to do, and wipes off easily. Complexions are usually oily enough in the hot days and need nothing of that nature added. Indeed, one can almost dispense entirely with cold cream in the summer. It's useful mostly as a guard against tanning and after exposure to dust.

M. M. W.—For blackheads, cleanse the skin every night with hot water and a mild soap or a cleansing cream, after which use a fine cream to soften the balance of the soil in the pores. Remove the surplus and body will hasten the clearing of the complexion of either pimples or blackheads.

T. L. T.—"Rough and ready" an expression commonly applied to persons who are willing, capable and efficient, but a little crude, has a peculiar origin. In Wellington's army, at the battle of Waterloo, was an intrepid colonel whose name was Rough. His first name does not appear in the available records. Wellington selected Rough for a hazardous task that required not only courage but promptness as well. The Colonel cheerfully accepted the detail, and acknowledging his quick response, the Duke said, "Rough, and ready." Colonel Rough was so pleased with the compliment that he adopted the phrase as his family motto. Later it became a slogan in the British army and finally found its way into everyday language.

Today's Talk

It had rained heavily the night before. And the dry ground had taken up the water like a sponge. So that as morning approached, there hung over the country thereabout, a deep mist. And the air was filled with a musty fragrance—the fragrance of the wood.

I had retired early. So I awoke early. The night had begun to fold its tents to steal away.

Silently and slowly the heavens began to give way from a velvety darkness to a gray blue, misty light. A soft, gentle breeze touched the tips of the tall trees, and kissed them.

Then the leader took his stand somewhere and the concert began—from the throats of scores of birds.

Robins, thrushes, catbirds, scarlet tanagers, little wrens and other singers, probably specially engaged for this very morning's festival of song!

What a happy throng, scattered all through the thick woods that hem my window!

I sat up in my bed and looked out into the awakening day. What an escort, thought I, for a day! Why do these birds sing? Who told them to? What makes them so happy? Who gave them their talent? Why do they give it away to all who may listen? Why don't they charge admission? I picked out a favorite—as one will at a concert—a little wren that sat perched on the tip of a rustic garden seat. How its tiny throat bubbled!

PICNICS ARE HELD AT KIL KARE PARK- CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

Kil Kare Park proved a popular resort for two picnicking groups Thursday. The shaded woods of the park was the scene of the annual picnic of the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club, and of the members of Christ Episcopal Church.

Members of the church congregation went to the park early in the afternoon, and spent the time enjoying the usual park amusements. A picnic supper was served in the evening from well filled baskets, and the good time continued throughout the early evening.

Miss Faye Cavanaugh, was elected president of the Business and Professional Women's Club succeeding Miss Ailegra E. Hawes, who has held the office since the organization of the club, two years ago, at the annual business meeting, following the club picnic supper. Miss Elsie Weber was elected vice-president. Miss Miriam Whittington, recording secretary; Miss Olivia Cost, corresponding secretary, and Miss Nelle Weaver, treasurer. Annual reports of committees were heard and other routine business was transacted, during the meeting.

IS RE-ELECTED TO HEAD SOCIETIES

Miss Dorothy Collins of Clifton, was re-elected president of the Young People's Societies of the Xenia Presbytery, at the final meeting of the convention held at the First United Presbyterian Church, at Springfield, Thursday night. All of the old officers were re-elected, including Miss Mildred Kyle, Springfield, stewardship secretary and treasurer; and Miss Eleanor Lackey, Jamestown, secretary.

Speakers at the convention, which opened Wednesday night, included the Rev. C. P. Proudfoot, Xenia. The Rev. L. H. Smith, Buffalo; the Rev. W. E. McGure, Columbus; Elmer Lettel, Springfield; and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Heinz, of Columbus.

The 1924 meeting will be held at Reynoldsburg.

ATTEND OUTING OF LOCAL TRAFFIC CLUB

Xenia members of The Miami Valley Traffic Club attended the annual outing of the organization at the Community Country Club ground Dayton, Thursday.

Families and guests of the club members were present in addition to members from Xenia, Dayton, Cincinnati, Hamilton, Cincinnati, Lima, Piqua, Troy, Cleveland and Toledo. Golf and tennis matches, a baseball game between the Carriers and Shippers and other athletic contests featured the day.

In the evening there was dancing in the clubhouse and a band concert.

UNABLE TO FORM CABINET

Brussels, June 22.—Premier Theunis returned his portfolio to King Albert and informed him that he had been unable to form a new cabinet. The cabinet resigned about a week ago when the government was voted down in a test vote in the chamber on the use of the Flemish language in Ghent university.

PROPOSE REUNION
OF COMPANY F, 83D
DIVISION IN XENIA

Events that hallowed the associations of members of Company F, 830th Infantry during the World War will be lived over again in memory when the organization holds a reunion near here July 18.

The rigors of that vicious winter when these soldiers, new to the soldier game, battled with the elements at Camp Sherman; when as new arrivals overseas they were introduced to the now-famed coddies and the tedious duties of training rookies and finally the part of their ways back in this country, will all be talked over at the proposed reunion.

Dr. W. P. Edmunds, of Washington, O. H., commander of Company F before his promotion to major, which rank he held when discharged, came here Thursday night to make arrangements for the reunion. With several Fayette County veterans of the outfit, he met Greene County men who belonged to the company in the office of Sheriff Morris Sharp, former Top Sergeant of F. Company.

While the date has been tentatively set for July 18, the scene of the all-day reunion has not yet been selected. The affair will probably be held at a spot easily accessible to all of the veterans. Company F was originally composed of Clinton, Fayette and Greene County men and was a unit of the Eighty-third division, first trained at Camp Sherman.

CHIROPRACTOR SELLS
LOCAL PRACTICE

Dr. G. C. Donohoo has sold his chiropractic practice in this city to Dr. James A. Nuckols, of Wilmington, who has already taken charge of the local office. Dr. Nuckols is a licensed chiropractor and has been practicing in this state for the last nine years. For the present Dr. Nuckols will be in his office on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Later he expects to move his family to this city.

Dr. Donohoo has not yet decided definitely on his future plans but expects to leave Xenia soon. He has sold his property on North Galloway Street, to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Oglesbee who will move into the house within the next few days.

SOCIETY

Mr. J. R. Gano of the Yellow Springs pike near Cedarville, underwent an operation for throat and ear trouble at the City Hospital, Springfield, Monday morning. He is recovering nicely and has been removed to his home.

Attaches at the Espey Hospital, reported a slight improvement in the condition of Thurman Claybaugh, 19, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon. Little hope is held for the lad's recovery, however.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larrick, of Columbia, who had been the guests for several days of Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty and family of North Detroit Street, left Friday morning by auto for Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will be in attendance at the annual furniture exhibit. They will be accompanied as far as Cleveland by Mrs. C. V. Henry, of Cleveland, who has been a guest at the Beatty home for the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stiff moved Thursday to the Hollencamp Apartments on East Second Street, where they will make their home until they get possession of the property on West Third Street, which they bought several weeks ago.

Mr. Ernest Beatty spent Friday in Cincinnati on a business trip.

YOUTHS ACCUSED OF STEALING TIRE

Pat O'Brien, 19, and Andy Kepler, 18, both of Dayton were arrested by Sheriff Morris Sharp and Deputy John Baughn on the Dayton pike near Trebains Thursday night and are being held in the County Jail pending arraignment on a charge of petit larceny.

Clarence Stoner, Springfield pike, notified authorities that he caught the youths in the act of removing an automobile tire from the rear of a machine parked near the Little Miami River bridge at Trebains. The boys escaped in their machine with Stoner giving chase and before he caught them they are said to have thrown the tire out of the car. In the meantime Sheriff Sharp was called and after Stoner had stopped the youths the officers arrived and placed them under arrest.

CASHIER OF BIG CONCERN MAKES EVIDENCE PUBLIC

"How Tanlac could build me up to such splendid health, when I was so rundown and nothing else helped me is more than I can understand," says Miss May Jones, Kennard Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, popular young business woman employed as cashier by a large corporation.

"For a year or more I had suffered from nervousness, indigestion and loss of appetite, and I felt listless, dull and tired out all the time. Heartburn and gas caused me serious distress after eating. I had fearful headaches too, and could never sleep well. I was so worn out and nervous that a long line of customers before the cash window confused me, and I simply felt miserable.

"Well, Tanlac benefited me from the very start, and now I haven't a ailment of any kind. I don't see how anyone who suffers like I did can afford not to take Tanlac, for the treatment has certainly rewarded me with a full measure of good health."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere. adv

PAVING WORK NORTH OF CITY VIRTUALLY COMPLETED NOW

The Republic Asphalt Company completed construction of the North Detroit Street paving from Fairground Avenue to the north corporation line Wednesday.

With the exception of the laying of a brick cross way at the southern end of the new paving along the tracks of the Springfield and Xenia traction, all the work is finished. The traction company held up this work pending the arrival of heavier rails to be installed and absorbed the paving company from waiting to complete the work. When the rails arrive the traction company will put in the brick work.

Frank Jackson, superintendent for the paving company had the entire stretch of street cleaned and brushed Thursday before the work was officially turned over to the city. The new paving, officials believe is one of the prettiest sections of asphalt street in the city and will greatly improve and beautify the north approach of the street.

Due to the paving construction tracks of the traction company have been moved to the center of the street thus improving property on the east side of the thoroughfare. With the completion of the paving by the county of the Springfield pike between Xenia and Velleck Springs motorists will enjoy good highway in and out of the city in that direction. Xenia Country Club members are also favored by the new paving which extends almost to the country club entrance.

WANTS EQUIPMENT TO PROTECT LIFE

Sheriff Morris Sharp will ask the Greene County Commissioners to provide a boat and other equipment with which to search for bodies of drowning victims when the commission meets Saturday morning.

Necessity of such equipment was emphasized when the Sheriff's office received a call for help from the vicinity of Clarence Smart, 18, Beaver Creek Township youth, was drowned Wednesday evening.

The boy was unable to swim and sank in deep water. Efforts of people nearby were fruitless in the attempt to locate the body until Thursday morning when help was received from Dayton. Sheriff Sharp believes Greene County should own a boat fitted on a carriage arrangement and grappling hooks.

Relieve scalp irritations with Resinol

Furze and dandruff are among the most frequent causes of baldness and too much care cannot be exercised in getting rid of them. The Resinol treatment is an easy method.

Shampoo with Resinol Soap, working the lather well into the roots of the hair. Rinse thoroughly and when wholly dry, spread the hair apart and gently rub into the scalp a little Resinol Ointment. If done carefully little ointment will get on the hair. Ask your druggist for Resinol.

LOWER COURT IS REVERSED IN RULING

Judgment of the Court of Common Pleas in the case of Melissa Harner against Mina Oglesbee, administratrix of the estate of Daniel Oglesbee, asking damages for alleged breach of contract, was reversed by the Court of Appeals in a decision handed down Thursday on the question of error in the lower court sustaining a demurrer to the reply.

The case, which has been many times and many months in litigation in Greene County Courts, is based upon a contract dated October, 12, 1900, which provided that the plaintiff, then Melissa Curry, should deed to Daniel Oglesbee her 56-acre farm and agree to be his housekeeper as long as he needed one in exchange for which his home farm of 163 acres, with all the furniture, a horse and cow, should be deeded to the plaintiff at his death.

The plaintiff alleges the terms of this contract were never fulfilled by Mina Oglesbee, administratrix of the estate. In reversing the judgment of the lower court the case will now probably be heard on its merits.

Attorneys W. S. Howard and F. H. Dean represent the plaintiff and Attorneys Miller and Finney compose counsel for the defendant.

William Martin Spahr was born Sept. 12, 1856, died June 15, 1923, aged 66 years, 9 months and 3 days. He was the eldest of nine children born to Daniel and Isabelle Jane Spahr. Almost all of his life was spent in Greene County Ohio.

He had a sunny disposition which brought forth many smiles where ever he went and gained for him many friends. Clothed in this ever happy outward expression was a more serious self which only those who knew him well appreciated. He was kind hearted, always willing to help when ever he could; always considerate of other's faults, never did he say anything cruel of them, if he could not say anything good of them he said nothing. He was ever true to the confidences confided in him. He made no pretensions. A strong devotion existed between him and his near relatives. He leaves to mourn our loss two brothers, Thomas Spahr, of Jamestown, Ohio, Albert Spahr Rice Lake, Wis., two sisters, Mrs. Walter Schooley, Springfield, Ohio, Mrs. Lewis Harness, Xenia, O., also one half brother, Edward Spahr Union City Ind. besides several nephews and nieces.

The model sketched illustrates one of the fashions that has been liked since its introduction early in the season—a skirt that is flat all around without outlining the shape of the figure, but given softness and grace by fullness at one side. This is accomplished by cutting a section of the skirt on the bias. When gathered up the effect is circular. The waistline, too, is somewhat shorter than we have been accustomed to, and the square neck with its soft ribbon treatment, the tucked shoulders, and soft girdle, are all typical of the simplicity which American women adore.

Whether or not the American women has the originality in clothes which we hear so often credited to the women of France, it must be admitted that she shows a great deal of discrimination in her choice of the fashions which Paris sends us. Recall, if you can the various styles that were launched last February and March. When there was a choice of wearing dresses with the back exaggeratedly flat and all the fullness drawn over the stomach, America looked and admired, but went in for pleats. She liked godet fullnesses moderately, and has taken the cocarde ribbon trimmings of Lanvin and the colorful prints to her bosom, but placed the veto on certain of the form-molding princess dresses which are becoming only to the tall svelte mannequins and the rare woman who is built like her.

One of the fashions that has been liked since its introduction early in the season—a skirt that is flat all around without outlining the shape of the figure, but given softness and grace by fullness at one side. This is accomplished by cutting a section of the skirt on the bias. When gathered up the effect is circular. The waistline, too, is somewhat shorter than we have been accustomed to, and the square neck with its soft ribbon treatment, the tucked shoulders, and soft girdle, are all typical of the simplicity which American women adore.
